MAN.

The human mind—that lofty thing!
The palace and the throne—
Where reason sits a sceptred king,
And breathes his judgment tone.
O! who with silent steps shall trace
The borders of that haunted place,
Nor in his weakness own
That mystery and marvel bind,
That lofty thing—the human mind.

The human heart—that restless thing!
The tempter and the tried;
The joyous, yet the suffering—
The source of pain and pride;
The gorgeous throng—the desolate;
The seat of love, the lair of hate,
Self-stung and self-doniced!
Yet do we bless thee, as thou art,
Thou restless thing—the human heart!

The human soul—that startling thing!
Mysterious and Sublime!
The angel sleeping on the wing,
Worn by the scoffs of Time—
The beautiful, the veiled, the bound,
The earth-enslaved, the glory crowned,
The stricken in its prime!
From heaven in tears to earth is stole,
That startling thing—the human soul!

And this is man—O! ask of him,
The gifted and forgiven—
While o'er his vision, drear and dim,
The wrecks of Time are driven;
If pride or passion in their power;
Can chain the tide or charm the hour,
Or stand in place of heaven!
He bends the brow, he bows the knee—
"Creator! Father! none but thee!"

FRIGHTENING A LOVER; OR THE
STRONG-MINDED WOMAN.

BY CAROLINE F. PRESTON.

"You have heard me speak of Stephen Jenkins, Matilda."

"Yes, uncle."

"Well, another cup of tea, if you please—he is coming here to-morrow, on a week's visit."

"You don't mean so, uncle?" exclaimed Matilda.

"And why don't I, Miss Matilda?—There is nothing to summon such a look of consternation to your face."

"Because, if he shouldn't happen to be agreeable—"

"Of course he is agreeable. At all events it is desirable for you to find him so, since he is your prospective husband."

"My prospective husband! What can you mean, uncle?" inquired Matilda opening her eyes in amazement.

"I thought you understoed it. Your estates join, and it is eminently proper therefore, that you should unite them by marriage."

"A very good reason, certainly," said Matilda, with a curl of her lip. "It makes little difference whether our dispositions are compatible or not?"

"Oh, they will easily adjust themselves after marriage, and then the two will make such a handsome estate."

"Suppose I shouldn't fancy him well enough to accept his proposals, uncle?" asked Matilda, demurely.

"If you should dream of such a thing as a refusal I should disinherit you. You are aware, I suppose, that all your property comes from me and that I can, at any time, recall it."

"That would be a pity, certainly," said Matilda, in a lively strain, "for I should have to take in washing, or something of that kind, to support myself, and I have such an appetite!"

Mr. Parker smiled in spite of himself, and evidently looked upon his niece as one who would readily yield to his expressed will.

"One question more, uncle. Suppose he shouldn't happen to fancy your humble niece, and conclude to pay his addresses elsewhere."

"I would never speak to the puppy again."

"And you would not disinherit me, then, uncle?"

"Of course not, you gipsy. It would not be your fault."

"It would be very mortifying to have him reject me," said Matilda, demurely.—"Is there anything he particularly dislikes in a woman, do you know?"

"I once heard him say he couldn't bear a literary woman," said her uncle, after some reflection. "All sorts of strong-minded women are his aversion. But then you know, Mattie, you are not strong-minded."

"Thank you, uncle, very much. That is as much as to say I am weak-minded."

"No such thing, you gipsy." But there is one thing more I have to tell you, and that is, that I shall not be here to entertain Mr. Jenkins. I am called away to New York by business, which will detain me the full length of his stay. So you will have to entertain him yourself. Mind and play your cards well, and I shall expect to find the marriage day fixed when I return."

"Oh dear, what shall I ever do with the horrid man for a whole week?"

"I dare say you will be dead in love with him by the time I get back. You may remember me to him when he arrives and tell him how much I regret not being here to welcome him."

"Yes, uncle, I'll remember."

That night Matilda kept awake for some time concocting a plan by which she might offend the prejudices of the expected visitor, and throw the burden of a refusal upon him; for she well knew, that if he once proposed, her uncle would be seriously angry if she rejected him, and very possibly would carry out the threat to to which he had given utterance.

It was about twelve o'clock the next day that a tall young man, of serious aspect, ascended Mr. Parker's front steps, and rang the bell.

He was ushered into the drawing-room, where, after waiting about half an hour, he was joined by Matilda.

The young lady was by no means looking her best. Her hair was loosely arranged, her collar was awry, and there was a very perceptible stain of ink upon her fingers.

"Mr. Jenkins, I presume," she remarked.

"And, I presume, I am addressing Miss Parker."

Our heroine inclined her head in the affirmative.

"I hope your respected uncle is well," said Stephen Jenkins, in a measured tone of a young man who was old beyond his years.

"I would marry such a stiff old poke for the world, was the not over-complimentary reflection of Matilda.

"My uncle regrets very much not being able to meet you," she said, in answer to his question, "but he is called to New York by business. I trust, however, that I shall be able to entertain you."

"That I do not question," said the visitor, with a slow attempt at gallantry.

"I am inclined to think he will, before he goes," thought Matilda.

Looking at her fingers, she remarked, as if she, for the first time, observed the stain of ink, "I hope you will excuse the appearance of my fingers, and I couldn't remove all traces of the ink."

"You were writing letters, I presume?" said Stephen.

"Oh, no! not at all. I was writing an artile on "Woman's Rights," for the 'Bugle of Freedom.'"

Mr. Jenkins started, uneasily.

"I suppose you are in the habit of seeing that paper," said Matilda

"No," said he stiffly.

"Ah! you don't know what you lose." Composed and edited entirely by females. But, perhaps—"

Matilda interrupted herself to ring the bell.

"Jane," said she to the servant, "you may go up stairs and bring down a manuscript which you will find on my table."

"A what, ma'am?"

"A manuscript—a sheet of paper with writing on it. Poor Jane," she continued, after her servant had gone out, "she would not be so ignorant, if man had not denied to us women the advantages of education which he claims for himself."

By this time Jane had returned with the manuscript.

"If you would like, Mr. Jenkins, I will read to you what I have written."

Mr. Jenkins looked dismayed, but managed to utter a feeble "Oh, certainly!"

Matilda, in a very emphatic manner began to read as follows:

"Mrs. Editor:—Permit me again to raise my voice, in trumpet tones, against the despotic rule of man over our down-trodden sex. Enlightened, as we are disposed to consider the present generation, is it not a disgrace, and a burning shame, that men should monopolize all the offices of honor and profit, and leave to his equal—shall I not say superior, in point of intellect— only a few undesirable and laborous posts. What, I say, is the reason that men should take upon themselves to govern, and expect us meekly to submit to the yoke which they seek to impose upon us? Why should we not see female Presidents in the chair of state, and—"

"This is all I had written, Mr. Jenkins, when you came,' said Matilda breaking off from the reading. "You will easily understand the idea that I was about to develope; and I have no doubt, you will agree with me."

"Do you really think, Miss Parker, that there should be no distinction in point of occupation between men and women?" exclaimed the sedate Stephens, horror-struck.

"Why should there be?" said Matilda, with spirit. "Do you doubt whether woman has an intellect equal to that of man?"

"Is there a female Shakspeare?" asked Mr. Jenkins.

"Yes," said Matilda, promptly. "Did you never read Mrs. Brown's poems?"

"I can't say I have," reeturned Stephen.

"Ah, then, I shall have the pleasure of making you acquainted with her."

She rang the bell.

"Jane," said she, "go up to my room and bring down the book you will find on the table."

Jane did so.

"We have an hour before dinner, it seems," said Matilda, looking at her watch. "In what way can we better improve it than by perusing together this noble monument of genius?"

Mr. Jenkins looked terrified; but before he had time to raise any objections Matilda had commenced.

She read aloud faithfully for the hour referred to—it seemed three hours to the unhappy Stephens—who had not the slighest apprehension of poetry of any description.

He was quite delighted when the dinner bell rang, and so was Matilda in her secret heart.

"I am afraid," said she, "we shall have to rest from our reading till after dinner, but by commencing immediately afterwards we may get a quarter through by tea time."

"How many pages are there in the poem?" the young man inquired, hesitatingly

"Only a little more than four hundred," was the encouraging reply.

The dinner proved to be not a very social meal. Malilda confined herself entirely to literary subjects, and evaded all attempts to change the topic.

"Good gracious!" thought the young man, "and this was the young girl I was to marry. I'd as soon marry a dictionary, although she is pretty; but then a strong-minded woman! I should be talked to death in less than a month."

Stephen Jenkins stopped two days; but, at the end of that time, announced that he should not be able to remain longer. During that time the poor man had heard more poetry than ever before in his life, and had conceived a deadly hatred against the whole tribe of female authoresses, particularly Mrs. Browning.

"Where is Mr. Jenkins?" inquired Mr. Parker on his return.

"Gone, Uncle," said Matilda.

"Gone! When did he go?"

"He only stopped a couple of days."

"Why, he was to have stopped a week. What was the matter with him?"

"I think, uncle, he was disappointed in me," said Matilda demurely.

"Did he leave no message for me?"

"Here is a note, uncle."

Mr. Parker hastily broke open the missive, and read as follows:

"My Dear Sir;—In order to prevent misunderstanding, I ought to say I don't think it will be well to adhere to the foolish compact, which was entered into some time since, in regard to my marriage with your niece. Though a very charming young lady, I don't think that our tastes are at all congenial, and I hereby remove any pretentions I may be supposed to have had to her hand. Regretting not to have had the pleasure of seeing you,

"I remain, very respectfully
"STEPHEN JENKINS."

"Why, the puppy has had the audacity to remove his pretentions to your hand!" exclaimed the indignant uncle

"Then, can't I be married?" inquired Matilda, in comical disappointment.

"Yes, you shall marry the first man that offers."

It was very remarkable that on the very next day, Edward Manley should have asked Mr. Parker's permission to address his niece—a permission which was at once accorded. The marriage took place within a few weeks, and I don't think he has ever repented marrying a strong minded woman!

PAGE TO THE SPEAKER.—At present the main stay of Speaker Pennington is the young man who stands upon his right—a youth of unusual fine appearance,—and something near eighteen years of age. This page was first appointed to office by Speaker Boyd, and has ever since continued to discharge the duties of "Page to the Speaker," among which is now reckoned the duty of prompting the Speaker in the discharge of his official business.—He stands near the Speaker, and directs him in an under tone how to put every motion and how to decide points of order as they arise. "Thaddeus" is known to all the politicians of the country as the most remarkable parliamentarian of his age living. With the construction of the rules of order he is perfectly familiar, and every precedent he has at his finger's ends

A FOOLISH CUSTOM.—Why should any man but an old one carry a cane? What use can a sensible young citizen make of one, save to tap his boots with it like a dandy, or caress the head of it with his lips, because there are no ideas forthcoming through those portals. We have come to associate want of brains with the possession of canes by young men. Candidly, we should not think highly of the business talents of a young man who was never divorced from his cane. To us it smacks of inefficiency and kidgloveism, both of which last below as well to low salaries as to ample fortunes. A nice stout cane, for the uncertain foot of age, is proper and becoming; but in the hand of a young man a cane is as superfluous and as much out of place as a rattlesnake's rattle would be on the tail of a tadpole.

☞ The proverb "ninety-nine sheep and a Champenese make a round hundred," is French, and the idea of it is that the man is a stupid animal like the rest. The origin of this proverb has been traced back to Cæsar's conquest of Gaul, and is worth remembering. Before that period the wealth of Champagne consisted in flocks of sheep, which paid a rate in kind to the public revenue. The conqueror, wishing to favor the staple of the province, exempted from taxation all flocks numbering less than a hundred head, and the consequence was that the Champanese always divided their sheep into flocks of ninety-nine. But Caesar was soon even with them, for he ordered that in future the shepherd of every flock should be counted as a sheep and pay as one.

☞ Says the Ohio Cultivator: "Mix one quart of molasses, three gallons of rain water, and one pint of yeast. Let it ferment, and stand four weeks, and you will have the best of vinegar.

Rhode Island Election.

The general election for State officers in Rhode Island took place on Wednesday, the 4th inst., after a most exciting contest. The returns show that Wm. Sprague, the "conservative" candidate for Governor, who was supported by the Americans, old line Whigs, moderate Republicans and Democrats, is elected by a large majority over Mr. Padelford, the nominee of the "ultra" Republicans.—Mr. Sprague is quite a young man, not thirty years of age, a calico manufacturer, and the wealthiest man in the State. He is a partner in a leading New York mercantile house. Although not a politician, he is said to be an "American Republican," and to entertain national sentiments. Walter S. Burgess, on the ticket with him for Attorney General, is a Democrat; and S. A. Parker, the State Treasurer, is a member of the American party. The candidates for Lt. Governor and Secretary of the State were voted for by all parties. The Republican majority in the State in 1856 for President was 4,787, and in 1859 for Governor it was 6,329.

Sprague's majority will be about 1,700.

GREAT FRESHET.——The Monongahela and Allegheny have been unusually high for the last few days, the water being within two feet of as high as it was at the time of the great freshet in 1852. The banks of the rivers were overflowed and an immense amount of damage done to property along their banks. A number of coal boats were broken loose at Pittsburgh and other places and swept off, and either wrecked against piers or in going over dams. The value of the boats known to be lost is $16,000.

A LIBERAL ARRANGEMENT.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have made a liberal reduction in their fare for the accommodation of pleasure seekers and persons desirous of spending the summer months in any of the delightful resorts located along the line of the road. Tickets with twenty-five coupons, good upon any of the accommodation trains, will be issued at a discount of from twenty to twenty-five per cent. below the regular rates, according to distance.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

☞ The Kansas Legislature granted one hundred and fifty bills of divorcements in forty days.

☞ Capt. Minier has taken the Logan House, Hollidaysburg, formerly kept by Corporal Keefer, dec'd.

☞ An old lady being asked to subscribe to a newspaper, declined, on the ground that when she wanted news she manufactured it.

☞ Sixteen gamblers were arrested in St. Louis last Thursday under the vagrant act. If convicted they are subject to a fine of from $500 to $1000.

☞ A lady of Alexandria, Huntingdon county, was severely injured by the explosion of a camphene lamp, on Tuesday of last week.

☞ The bill for the admission of Kansas passed the House on Wednesday last by a vote of 134 to 75. The Senate has yet to act upon it.

☞ Five foxes and two ground hogs, were recently dug out of the same hole in Armstrong township, Indiana county, by George Kimmel and Alexander Cochran.

☞ Mrs. Swinehelm says that the popularity of her paper in Minnesota is due to the fact that "people are always expecting she will say something she ought not to."

☞ Mr. Thomas Howard, of Cleveland, stepped into a drug store in that city on Tuesday last, and drank a glass of kreosote, supposing it was brandy. He died in 2 hours.

☞ The Chicago Press publishes a list of 42 hotels that agree to abide, during the Republican Convention, by their present rates. Four hotels charge $2.50 per day, seven $2, sixteen $1 50, and fifteen $1.

☞ Rev. Daniel Worth has been convicted, in Randolph county, N. C., of circulating the "Helper Book," and sentenced to be imprisoned one year. An appeal, however, has been taken.

☞ The Pittsburgh Chronicle says that some sporting men of Pittsburgh and Columbus, Ohio, have gotten up a chicken fight of fifteen chickens a side, the odd fight for $200, and the balance for $50 each, will come off some of these days.

☞ Hon. William Roberts, of Uniontown, Carroll county, Md., committed suicide one day last week, by hanging himself with a pocket handkerchief. Mr. R. was President of the Western Maryland Railroad, and was a much esteemed and wealthy citizen. The cause of this rash act is supposed to have been an over-pressure of business.

☞ A lady, who is quite a famous housekeeper, recommends an economical plan for making cake without butter which may be useful to our readers. Take a piece of fat salt pork, melt it down and strain it through a piece of coarse thin muslin. Set it aside until cool. It is then white and light, and may be used like butter in any kind of cake. In pound cake she assures us it is delicious. She says that when this has never been before tried.

*To be taken up on Wednesday.

JOS. BALDRIGE, Prst.

☞ There is at present, in the Cumberland county Poor House, a negro aged one hundred and thirty years. He is yet a comparatively active, hale old man. He was, in early life, a servant under Gen. Washington.

Death of a Revolutionary Soldier.

John Ludwig, one of the soldiers of the Revolution, and the oldest man at the time, perhaps, in the State, died in New Washington, Clearfield county, the other day. The deceased was born in Michaelstadt, Germany, in 1746, and came to this country in 1758, being then twelve years old. He resided in Pennsylvania one hundred and one years, seven months and eighteen days. He died March 23d, at the wonderful age of one hundred and thirteen years, seven months and eighteen days. The deceased entered the American service in 1775, and fought throughout the whole war. He was with Washington when he crossed the Delaware on Christmas night, 1775, and was in the battle of Trenton, on the 26th of December. The light of day was just breaking when the Americans drove in the outposts of the Hessians through a thick snow storm. He was in the battle of Brandywine September 11, 1777, under Lafayette. He was transferred to the command of Gen. Wayne, and was in his defeat near Paoli, September 20, 1777. He was in the battle of Germantown, October 4, 1774.—He was encamped with Washington at Valley Forge, December 11, 1777. He has said that the winter of that year was the coldest he ever experienced. Our troops, he has told us, shot squirrels and drew their skins over their feet for shoes. He was in the battle of Monmouth, June 28, 1774, under Wayne, and was with Wayne at the taking of Stony Point, where the watchword was, "Remember Paoli, brave boys." He was with Lafayette at the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, on the 19th of October, 1781, and, in his own words, "in many more scrimmages that he could not remember the particulars of." This warrior left descendants to the fourth generation, and to the number of nearly three hundred. He was a gunsmith by trade, and made a perfect gun when he was one hundred and seven years of age. During the last summer he could read without spectacles.—When he was over ninety he walked to Clearfield and back, a distance of nearly thirty miles—and then back again, a distance in all of nearly sixty miles, before dark, on one and the same day. We are assured that he did not feel any the worse of this walk. He never missed a Presidential or Gubernatorial election since the very first. He always enjoyed good health until a short time previous to his death, when he began to have weak spells, and was only bedfast from the Sabbath before he died.

☞ One of the most singular wagers we ever heard of, says the Buffalo Courier, was made in Chicago on the day before the municipal election in that city. The bet was between a Water street merchant and Ned Osborne of the Tremont House, the largest cigar and tobacco dealer in the city, and was to the effect that if Wentworth was not elected, Osborne should have the privilege of kicking the Water street merchant aforesaid, from the Tremont House to Springer street. The day after the election, the merchant having lost, came to Osborne's store, and presented his person to him for the contemplated kicks, and demanded that Osborne should take the stakes. Osborne had been training his right leg all the previous day, and had armed his foot with a heavy cowhide boot, with soles as thick as two clapboards. The merchant started up by the Tremont, Osborne delivering a heavy kick as he started, but drew back his foot with a spasmodic action and paroxysm of countenance absolutely pitiful He tried another one, but the looser flinched not, and he kept on his way undisturbed by the volley he had received. The result of this was worse than the first, and he fairly curled up on the ground and howled with pain. The merchant stooped and calmly inquired: "Why don't you take the stakes?" "What have you got in the basement of your pants?" cried Ned. "Milwaukie bricks," shouted the merchant, "and we ain't within a mile of Springer street yet." Osborne subsided, paid the champagne, and has been wearing a list slipper ever since.

WILL THE COAL FIELDS HOLD OUT?—Some of the scientific journals have been discussing at various periods the question whether the coal fields will hold out, considering the enormous quantity consumed. Professor Rogers, after showing the areas and solid contents of the various known coal fields, estimates that, at the present rate of consumption, 100,000,000 of tons per annum, the coal fields of Pennsylvania alone would meet the demand for 3,164 years If the consumption were doubled, viz: 200,000,000 of tons, the great Appalachian field would meet the strain for 6,937½ years.—If it were quadrupled, viz: 400,000,000 the productive coal fields of North America would suffice for the world's supply for 10,000 years to come. It is mentioned as a fact that a panic was once created in Philadelphia, by the announcement that the workman had reached the bottom of the Mauch Chunk coal mine. The stock of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company fell twenty per cent., and gloomy presentiments filled the general mind. These apprehensions were caused by ignorance of the nature of the coal formations, which, unlike other mines, occur in strata or seams, and the hope of abundant supply lies in the extent rather than the thickness of these seams.

SACRILIGIOUS FUN.—On Saturday an advertisement appeared in the Baltimore Sun, stating that on Sabbath morning the administration of the ordinance of Baptism would take place near the Belvidere bridge, in that city. The hour set forth was eleven o'clock, previous to which large numbers of men and women of all ages and conditions in life, were seen wending their way to the designated spot. Several thousand persons had congregated, all waiting in anxious expectation that the minister and the subjects would make their appearance.—Soon a whisper seemed to be given from ear to ear, that this was the first day of April, or "all fools day." It quickly, like an electric shock, pervaded the entire multitude, when carriages and horsemen, and those on foot, were seen, in double quick time, departing for their homes.

THE LABOR ON A FASHIONABLE DRESS.—A correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes:

In the fashion plates of the April number of the Ladies' Book, the skirt of a dress is represented with fifteen flounces.

I had the curiosity, with the assistance of lady friends, to ascertain the number of feet of sewing necessary to complete one of these fashionable skirts to a modern dress, and I found that the busy hand of the seamstress must sew and stitch, to finish this one dress, to the extent of nine hundred and seventy-seven feet. Add to this twenty-three feet for the waist, and you have one thousand feet, or one mile of sewing in about five dresses.

☞ The following steamers are announced to take visitors to the Charleston Convention, and to furnish board during its session at the sums stipulated: the R. R. Spaulding, from Boston, $100 for the round trip; the Keystone, from Philadelphia, $80; the Yorktown, from Richmond, $50; the Contraccaicos, from New Orleans, $60; the Augusta, from Savannah, $30, with an extra charge of $2 50 per day, for every day that the session shall continue beyond one week.

HIGHEST PEAK ON THE EARTH'S SURFACE.—Humboldt, in his "Aspect of Nature," states that the highest peak on the earth's surface is Dwalagiri. It is 8,187 metres above the level of the sea. A higher since has been discovered, according to the "Annuaire," for 1860. It is Kenichingunga, on the western range of the Himalayas. It reaches the enormous altitude of 8,688 metres—about 28,200 feet.

A GREAT MATCH FACTORY.—A manufactory of friction matches has just been put in operation at Cincinnati by two wealthy citizens of that city. The cost of the buildings and machinery has been $150,000, and it is the most extensive match factory in the world, except one at Austria. It will turn out and pack six thousand gross of matches a day, at a cost but little removed from the raw material, and of a quality quite beyond anything the public has seen. An inextinguishable match that no wind can blow out, is here made by an automatic machine, at the rate of two thousand gross per day, and so cheap that they can be shipped to Europe where this kind are all made by hand.—Cincinnati Gazette.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.—The prize fight between Heenan and Sayers takes place on Monday the 16th instant The fight is for the championship of England, and it is noticeable that on the same day, and in the same ring, after the first fight is over, another American, Charley Lynch, of New York, is to fight Young Shaw for the championship of the English "feather weights." Lynch is the pugilist who killed Kelley in a prize fight near New York, and who, having fled to England, has conquered in two or three rings there, and obtained the title which he fights to preserve.

A GOOD ARGUMENT.—In a time of much religious excitement and consequent discussion, an honest Dutch farmer on the Mohawk was asked his opinion as to which denomination of Christians were on the right way to heaven—"Vell, den," said he, "ven we ride out wheat to Albany, some say dis road ish de best, and some say dat; but it don't make much difference which road we take, for ven we git dere dey never ask us vish vay we come—and its none of their business if our wheat is good."

CURIOUS REPENTANCE.—At Muskegon, as we learn from a man in that section, a man who had got drunk and froze both feet off, resolved to make amends by starving himself to death. A gentleman from there told us when he left, the man had abstained twenty two days from all food and drink. This is a veritable case as vouched by the physicians. He was expected to live but a few days longer. He was occupied constantly with prayer for his soul, which he feared was destined for purgatory.—Milwaukie Paper.

MISSOURI AND ITS GOVERNOR.—The action of Gov Stewart, of Missouri, in vetoing the railroad appropriation bill, meets with the disapprobation of many persons besides the railroad men. Both Houses of the Legislature adjourned on the 30th sine die, but the Governor refuses to recognize their right to adjourn, and issued a proclamation commanding them to meet on Monday next, which is treated with perfect contempt by most of the members, nearly all of whom have returned to their homes.

CROUP.

Children are often seized very suddenly with this disease, which, if not quickly relieved, proves fatal. It generally attacks children in the night, after having been much exposed to damp, cold winds through the day. Damp houses, wet feet, thin shoes, wet clothes, or anything that obstructs perspiration, may occasion Croup. Mothers! your children are liable to be taken with this dread complaint at a time when you least expect it; but it is not always a doctor can be called or a remedy found, and for this reason we would advise you, and without a moment's delay, to buy a bottle of Dr. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL. It will cure every case of Croup, if taken in time; and also all complaints attending teething. Convulsions, Coughs, Colds, etc. It is sold by all respectable druggists. Messrs. CHURCH & DUPONT, New York, are the proprietors, and also sole agents for "Dr. BRONSON'S BLOOD FOOD," which for Consumptive and Chronic diseases is a sure remedy. Do not be put off with any other articles. Write to CHURCH & DUPONT, New York, if you cannot get them in your own town. ☞ See advertisement. For sale by A. Roush.

☞ The great drawback to persons emigrating to the extreme south and western country, is the fear they have of the Fever and Ague—the most direful of all diseases.—Every day we hear of persons attacked by this disease and made helpless in a short time, without any means of affording relief. In view of the great demand for a remedy, Dr. HOSTETTER has presented his celebrated "Bitters," whose curative powers for all diseases of the stomach have been universally acknowledged. The "Bitters," prepared after a long experience and deep study, have received the encomiums of the most eminent physicians, as well as all classes, from every part of our country. To those who doubt their many virtues, all we can say is to try them, and judge for yourselves respectively.

Sold by all druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

☞ See advertisement in another column.

☞ "OH THAT THE SKIN of an innocent sheep should be made into parchment, and written on to the undoing of a man!" quoth Shakspeare. He might also have deplored the ruining of men's forms by the uncouth manner in which some ungracious tailors butcher up the cloth made from the wool grown by those same harmless sheep. To see the perfection of the art of working up cloth wisely and well, and so as to set off to the best advantage the forms of its wearers, call at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut St. above Sixth, Phila. and examine their stock of garments for gentlemen and youths.

REASON AND COMMON SENSE.

Our readers may remember we have on several occasions spoken in very eulogistic terms of a preparation which Dr. SETH S. HANCE, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., has discovered for the cure of Epileptic Fits. Now, in doing so, we have been actuated by the very best motives, viz:—the alleviation of human sufferings. From circumstances which have lately come to our knowledge, we fear there is a certain class of persons who are not disposed to try this remedy in a common sense manner. We allude to the fact of selecting a particular case in a town where perhaps there are six or eight cases, and trying it one case. Now, perhaps the case selected might be the only one of the whole number that it would not cure. This is neither doing themselves nor the medicine justice. If a dozen persons were stricken down with cholera in one town or neighborhood, would they all send for a physician, or would only one employ him, and wait and see if he cured the first patient? That plan of procedure would be most absurd. So in the case of Dr. Hance's remedy, every one who has Fits should try it for a reasonable length of time. It will not cure in a day or week; nothing worth doing can be accomplished at once. What is easily done is as easily undone.—The growth of time is enduring. From the most respectable testimony we have examined, we feel assured that by a proper perseverance in this remedy, nine cases of Epilepsy out of ten may be cured. The Pills are sent by mail free of postage to any part of the world. Price—one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $24. You will find the address as above.

A FAMILY NECESSITY.

The following statement speaks for itself:—(Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person severely—one hand almost to a crisp. It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. CHARLES FOSTER. 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is a truly wonderful article. It will cure any case of swelling, Burns Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses, it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has saved a valuable horse. It cures Galds, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable globe. BARNES & PARKS,
Proprietors, New York.

TOOTHACHE.

This disease can be cured by Dr. Keyser's Toothache Remedy, prepared by him in Pittsburg, Pa., which is put up in bottles and sold at 25 cents each. It is an excellent medicine, when diluted, for spongy and tender gums, and is worth ten times its price to all who need it. Sold here by G. W. Kessler, Druggist.

LOCAL ITEMS.

APOLOGY.—A rush of job work which, owing to its nature, could not be delayed, has prevented us from issuing our paper at the usual time this week, and also from giving it that attention it should have had.

INTERESTING TO THE ECONOMICAL.—Miss Jennie Scott, our tasteful milliner, has purchased a machine which, in these hard times, is particularly adapted to the wants of the people;—Mrs. C. C. Dow's Patent Hat and Bonnet Pressing Machine. The invention is an old and long tried one, and has proved a successful one. Its advantages over the old system of pressing by hand with irons are:—the work is done in much shorter time; the articles pressed are made stronger, or more durable; sunburn, mildew, iron rust, &c., are wholly removed: after going through the machine, the bonnets will, when exposed to the sun, continue to whiten for some time and will never sunburn again. Gentlemen's hats can be rendered equally as good as new by the machine. Miss S. has purchased the right of this and Mifflin county, for the use of the machine, consequently her's is the only one in this county. In connection with this item, we might state that Jennie intends starting to the city on Mondy morning next to lay in a stock of goods which will not be excelled for beauty and quality this side of Philadelphia.

ACCIDENT.—We learn from a correspondent at Spruce Creek, that a man named James Levin was run over at Barree station by the East Freight westward, on Sunday morning last, and so much injured that he died between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening. He was a laborer on a farm near Spruce Creek, and was enticed by a man to accompany him to Barree, where he became intoxicated, and the man left him. He was found between 8 and 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, but was speechless. After being carried into the station house and warmed up he tried to talk, but could not be understood. His right arm was crushed from the elbow to the shoulder and he was slightly bruised in other parts of his body. An inquest was held upon his body by Esquire Lytle, of Spruce Creek, and a verdict in accordance with the above statement rendered.

FRIGHTFUL CASUALTY.—One of the most frightful accidents which we have ever been called upon to record, occurred on Thursday, morning at Hay & Co.'s Coal Works, near Irvin's Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad. It appears that six men entered the shaft for the purpose of going to work, and were being let down in the usual way, when the rope attached to the windlass through which they were being lowered, broke, precipitating them a distance of some one hundred and twenty feet, to the platform below. The result is easily imagined.—The entire party were killed and their remains terribly mangled. They were all miners, and worked in the pit Three of them were married, and men of families.

PAY OF CENSUS MARSHALS.—The pay of Marshals will be one dollar per thousand in the district if the population exceeds one million—if less, then $1 25 for each thousand. The pay of the assistant is 2 cents per head of the population, 10 cents for the statistics of each farm, 15 cents for each establishment of productive industry, and two cents for each death reported. The Marshal is prohibited from receiving any part of the fees of the Assistant under a penalty of $1,000 for each offence. The assistants have five months in which to perform their duties, in place of six weeks, as is stated in a paragraph going the rounds of the papers.

A LONG COURTSHIP.—A couple were recently married in the village of Webster, Westmoreland county, who had been billing and cooing for the last twenty-one years! The gentleman is over sixty, and the lady about forty. Their courtship commenced in 1839, when the lady was not yet out of her teens, and when her "lover" was double her age. Some one has said that courtship is the happiest period of life. If this be true, what a joyous time this couple must have had. Connubial bliss was nowhere!

MORE SHOW BEEF.—Our excellent and enterprising caterer for the public, in the beef line, M. Runyan, appears determined to keep up, if not raise higher, his reputation for slaughtering the best beeves to be had here or in the west. On Wednesday last he drove a lot past our office, nearly all of which were as large as the one heretofore noticed. They were beauties, and will furnish choice cuts, and when they have been served up there will be "more of the same sort" on hand. The beef dealt out on Saturday morning last was capital, only a little too fat for some palates.

RETURNED.—We are pleased to note the return of our young friend, Robt. Pitcairns, who comes to assume the position of Clerk to the General Superintendent, and will therefore reside permanently among us. His thorough knowledge of railroading and his previous long connection with the Penn's Central well fits him for the situation to which he has been called, and his selection will be well received by all whose business requires them to have intercourse with him.

[COMMUNICATED.]

"On with the dance."—Dunham.
"On through the maze of the fleet dance, on."—Hemans.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Terpsichore rules the hour. The arch magician, Dunham, has wrought a French revolution in "Young America's" vulgar ideas of locomotion. This progressive youngster has done away with walking. He "waltzes" to his breakfast; he "schottisches" up stairs and down; he goes off to his work in a "jig;" he "reels" to bed; he "mazourkas" to church; the juvenile instead of going it flat-footed to school, "trips it on the light fantastic toe," and "tip-toes terpsichorally across the Academic threshold." Even the dogs seem to have caught the infection, and the stranger from distant parts, stares with mute wonder to see a canine quadruped skip across the floor a la Dunham. But when we come to consider him who leads off in this giddy whirl, the master-spirit which controls and corrects this romping revelry, which might else run wild, we cease to wonder at these strange results.

Mr. Dunham is a person of marked and peculiarly distinguished personal appearance; of medium size; of square build; his commanding person would secure respect even from those whom the sun of his genius has now enlightened. With a head of the finest phrenological developments, (which a slight tendency to baldness show off to peculiar advantage, an eye beaming with intelligence, a countenance indicative of the exalted benevolence of his character—of manners in which consummate grace is harmoniously blended with the highest dignity, he is indeed a striking and effective figure. His mind is a mine, which tinges all subjects with the reflection of its own brightness. His grasp is wonderful. He seems to be perfectly familiar with all the subjects which it is possible for the mind of man to dwell upon. You need but suggest to him the most intricate, profound problem of politics, "the Gordian knot of it he will untie;" take him on physics, his very presence is a physic—his conversation is a prolonged physic. He is a thorough master of metaphysics;—we have seen him, with unabated zest, maintain an argument of five hours duration, to convince his opponent that the contemplated "mill" between Heenan and Sayers, is not a brutal exhibition, but an intellectual "set to." Hear him discourse on trout-fishing, you can almost see the "speckled beauties" flashing in the sunlight. In electricity he is a galvanic battery. In alchemy he he is a perfect Dousterswivel. Talk of your lawyers. Shades of the immortal Coke, Blackstone, Mansfield, Marshall and Kent! Here is a disciple worthy to enter into the sanctum sanctorum of the grand temple of jurisprudence, and minister at the altar of justice! He is familiar with the most mysterious arcana of law. His speech blazes with the rich trophies and rare brilliants of thought, which gem the current of time, and illustrate the history of law.

But his great forte is unquestionably finance His financial genius eclips es all his other faculties. Finance seems to be the focus of all the rays of his genius. All the other mental endowments we have mentioned seem but auxiliary to this. They all seem to center here.—He was not long in our midst until he had resolved himself into a committee of the whole on the state of the finances. This prodigy met his juvenile disciples twice a week, in the hall above Mr. Jaggard's store. Here his startling and eccentric evolutions struck the youthful mind with intense wonder: he was furthermore a "whole-souled man;" he had "a foreign air," his untiring patience, forbearance, cool intrepidity and facile temper won the praise of all. Our citizens went wild in his praise. At the fifth meeting of his class, he displayed one of his remarkable financial feats by suggesting to his youthful followers to "come down with their dust," which they accordingly did, each dancing to the tune of two dollars and a half ante, excepting one who evinced a spirit of reckless insubordination, (I had almost said rebellion) by replying to the earnest importunities of his professor, that he "danced on time."

After this grand coup d'etat, the Professor went a trout-fishing. Since then he has not been heard of; and it is shrewdly suspected that he is so much taken with this genteel sport, that he has quite forgotten to come back, forgotten his bill at the Logan House, forgotten his magnanimous offer to give free lessons to the head waiter's children, forgotten the friends who loaned him a "twenty," and the others who loaned him a "ten." It is however a feature of the Professor's financial genius, to be forgetful of these vulgar trifles. A vague suspicion had also insinuated itself into the minds of his unsophisticated pupils, that he had taught them a "step" which was not down in the bill, which budding suspicion burst into the full blossom of certainty, when on the next night of meeting the irrimitable and accomplished Dunham came not; and when "morn came, and went, and came again," and yet he came not, it was then that all their rosy anticipations of brilliantly illuminated and tastefully festooned halls, which the "gay deceiver" had promised, and the visions of bright lamps shining

"O'er fair women and brave men," paled into the dull, cold, grey reality of disappointment. And now,

"Where are the young and the lovely?—gone!
Where are the brows with the red rose crowned,
And the floating forms with the bright zone bound
And the waving locks and the flying feet,
That still should be where the mirthful meet?
They are gone!—they are fled, they are parted all:—
Alas! the forsaken hall!

LATEST FROM THE EAST.—Of course every body who takes any interest in the "mill" between the "Benica Boy" and Tom. Sayers, which comes off in a few days, will be on the lookout for the latest news in reference to the condition of the men and their prospects, and what is said about them, but all that may be said about them could not possess as much interest to the people of this community as the simple announcement that J. & J. Lowther have just received their stock of Spring and Summer goods, and a beauty of a stock it is.—Large, varied, excellent, consisting of everything and the very best of everything, calculated to suit everybody and all their friends. Just drop in and see the piles and learn the prices.

HEALTH AND LONG LIFE.—Dr Geo. H. Keyser, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has prepared a medicine for the cure of lung diseases, that bids fair to out rival all the various horde of nostrums, with which the public have been pestered for years. He does not pretend that it will cure consumption in its last steps, when ulcers are eating up the lungs, but he means to do a great deal of good, in arresting in time the symptoms which lead to a fatal disease. Take warning in time, then, and when you get a cough, get a bottle of Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, which will be sure to cure you. Sold at G. W. Kessler's.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.—On Monday next, a new schedule will go into effect on the Penn's R. R. It will make considerable change in the time of departure of passenger trains from this station, and those who intend to travel should make a note of it, else they may find themselves a "leetle" too late.

CORRECTION.—In noticing the candidates from this place, for County Superintendent of Common Schools, in our last issue, we stated that our friend across the way, H. Smith, had received the title of L. L. D., from Union College. We should have said A. B. The mistake was made by us and we cheerfully correct it, as early as possible, as we know Mr. S. has no desire to sail under false colors.

NOTICE.—The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Presbyterian Church, in this place, on Sabbath next. There will be preparatory services on Friday and Saturday evenings at 7½ o'clock, and on Saturday morning at 10½ o'clock. Rev G. W. Zahniser, of Huntingdon, will assist in the services. The public is invited to attend.

Notice.—The subscribers to the Capital Stock of the Altoona Gas and Water Company are hereby notified that if the full amount of their subscription is not paid on or before the 16th day of May next, Section 8th of the Act of Assembly for the incorporation of Gas and Water Companies will be strictly enforced:—

"SECTION 8. That if the stockholder, whether an original subscriber or assignee, after twenty day's notice of the time and place appointed for the payment of any instalment or proportion of the capital stock, shall neglect to pay the same at the place appointed, for the space of thirty days after the time appointed for payment thereof, such stockholder shall, in addition to the instalment so called for, pay at the rate of one per centum per month for every delay of such payment, and if the same and additional penalty shall become equal to the sum before paid on account of such share, the same may be forfeited by and to the said company, and may be sold by them at public sale for such price as may be obtained therefor, or in default of payment of any stockholders of such instalments as aforesaid for the space of sixty days after the time appointed as aforesaid, the president and managers may at their election cause suit to be brought in the same manner as debts of a like amount are now recoverable, for the recovery of the same, together with the penalties aforesaid."

DIED.

In this place, on Thursday, the 5th inst., of Typhoid fever, Mr. JONATHAN LANTZ, aged 40 years.

"Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me; for of such is the kingdom of Heaven."—Mat. xix, xiv.

WALTER C. ROE died at Altoona, Pa., April 1st., 1860, in the 37th year of his age. He was a son of the late Rev. J. A. Roe, of Pittsburgh. He joined the M. E. Church in the year 1851, and continued a faithful member until his death. He possessed a combination of qualities such as is rarely seen. Whilst he was humble and modest, he was dignified and firm—respecting all men, but when in the path of duty fearing none. He was a most attentive hearer, but despised the office of a critic—liberal without extravagance—a prudent, wise and safe counsellor. He loved the Church, and the Church loved him. As a business man, he was correct, attentive and persevering—one of the most efficient stewards we have ever met. As such, his influence with his brethren was almost unbounded, and his value was beyond computation. As a husband and father, he was a model after which but few could pattern without improvement.—The moments not occupied in business were spent in his family, where, by the voice of music and the smile of love, he taught all to honor and reverence him. To know him was to love him. His death, like his life, presented a beautiful exhibition of the power of religion. It was a glorious triumph. For some days previous, through the complication and peculiarity of his affliction, he had been quite delirious—but a few hours before his departure his intellect became vigorous and realizing his condition, he gave the fullest proof that all was well. He called his wife and children to his bedside and kissing each one, he bade them farewell, and whilst a few persons who had assembled in the room were engaged in prayer, and singing "On Jordan's stormy banks I stand," he leaned his head, by faith, upon the bosom of his Saviour, and sweetly breathed his life away. It was not a cross to stand by the side of Walter C. Roe when dying. No, no. It was witnessing a glorious victory. He has gone, and with him a bright light. Peace to his ashes and honor to his memory.

S. CREIGHTON.

Resolutions adopted at a meeting of the Official Members of the Altoona M. E. Church, April 9th, 1860.

WHEREAS, It has pleased God, in the order of his Providence, to remove from our midst our friend and brother, Walter C. Roe, who for three years has been associated with us; be it

Resolved, That the members of this body cherish a grateful recollection of the memory and virtues, as well as the agreeable intercourse which they have enjoyed with the deceased, and a deep sense of the valuable services which, as Steward, he rendered the Church.

Resolved, That this body deeply sympathizes with the relatives of the deceased in their bereavement, and that the Secretary be requested to communicate an appropriate expression of the same to his afflicted family.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered on the journal of this body, and that a copy be forwarded to the "Altoona Tribune," for publication.

THE ONLY PREPARATION WORTHY OF UNIVERSAL CONFIDENCE AND PATRONAGE,
For Statesmen, Judges, Clergymen, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world, testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given: see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20th, 1858.
GENTLEMEN: Your note of the 15th inst., has been received saying that you heard that I had been benefited by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.
I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 59 years; the color of my hair is auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatning to make me bald.
In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find

HOSTETTER'S
STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

☞ Sold by G W Kessler and A Roush, Altoona; G A Jacobs, J K Patton and W G Murray, Hollidaysburg; and S. Berlin Tyrone. [Aug 25, 1859-1y

JUST OPENED A STOCK OF Entirely New Goods.
R. A. O. KER

WOULD INFORM THE GOOD people of Altoona, the surrounding country, and the "rest of mankind," that he has just returned from the city with a large stock of NEW GOODS, which he offers at reasonable prices, at the stand formerly occupied by B. Kerr, and recently by W. O'Neals, on Main street. His stock is the only one in town which is

ENTIRELY NEW,

and he flatters himself that he has something to please the eye of every lady, and suit the wants of every gentleman. He deems it unnecessary to enumerate all the articles on the shelves, (as to do so would require a whole newspaper,) but would say that he has everything in the line of which this meridian calls for, and all just suited to the season, together with a well selected assortment of House Furnishing Goods, such as Carpets, Window Blinds, Shades, &c., which will commend themselves.

LADIES' DRESS GOODS

FOR GENTLEMEN,

he has a great variety—from which they can not fail to make a satisfactory selection. He has also a tip-top assortment of GROCERIES as good, fresh and cheap as can be had this side of the place of growing or manufacture. Also, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, and everything necessary to complete a store in a thriving town like Altoona.

All he asks is that the people call and examine his stock, which he will at all times take pleasure in showing, and he feels confident that he can send them away rejoicing, if not in the purchase of just such an article as they wanted, at the remembrance of having looked upon the handsomest stock of Goods ever exhibited in the town.

DR. O. PHELPS BROWN'S
ACACIAN BALSAM
FOR THE PERMANENT
CURE OF CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, COUGHS, COLDS, GENERAL DEBILITY, &C.

This remedy is offered as affording a means of speedy cure for the large number that die annually in our land of that fell scourge, Consumption, to which, unfortunately, so many predisposing causes exist. Youth and age are alike subject to its ravages.

EVERY PERSON

can name one or more of his acquaintances who is subject to some form of lung or throat complaint, which, if not attended to in season, inevitably consigns the sufferer to a premature grave. To such, help is at hand if they will but avail themselves of it, and hope,—the harbinger of brighter days,—may be awakened without fear of chilling disappointment. Dr. O. PHELPS BROWN'S ACACIAN BALSAM does just what is claimed for it, and may be relied upon by the sick as being the most successful in curing lung and throat disorders, of any remedy known at the present day. The many phases assumed by Consumption justifies the apprehension of those who have reason to fear its approach, either from constitutional or hereditary tendency.

While the discoverer of this remedy does not believe that people should be constantly dosing themselves with medicines

TO PREVENT SICKNESS,

there are many cases where disease is too long allowed to remain unchecked in the system; and a slight cough, regarded at first as simply an annoyance, ceases only with the life of the patient. An impure state of the blood, through debilitation of the lungs, fills the system with morbid humors, and pulsation becomes feeble or accelerated to a feverish intensity—the heart, liver, and kidneys, separately performing functions of vital necessity to our well-being, are impeded in their regular action—the digestive organs falter in their task, and refuse to perform the process of separating the nutritious elements from food; and the whole mental being is well-nigh ready to sink under the burden of life. The patient so afflicted, accounts his case a complication of disorders, and often refuses to resort to medication, from his thorough disbelief in any prospect of cure. To such of the ACACIAN BALSAM, as thoroughly worthy the confidence of all. Every symptom of Consumption is surely and permanently eradicated by its use. Its effects are none other but strengthening and renovating to the entire system. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, and General Debility, are effectually cured by its use. Night-Sweats, Loss of Flesh, and Wasting away of the Muscles, Loss of Appetite, Soreness of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs, Liver Complaint, Palpitation of the Heart, Difficulty of Breathing—all these affections disappear in an incredibly short time after using Dr. O. Phelps Brown's Acacian Balsam.

It nourishes and strengthens the patient who is too much reduced to partake of ordinary food. It heals all internal sores, tubercles, and inflammation. It strengthens, braces, and revitalizes the brain, and is without a rival as a tonic, supplying electricity or magnetic force to every part of the enfeebled and prostrate body. It needs no lengthy trial to convince any that the ACACIAN BALSAM is truly the greatest remedy of the day, as its beneficial qualities are fully apparent in eight and forty hours after trial.

Let the invalid, then, no longer delay, but make the trial, and the result will surely be of the most gratifying character.

The ACACIAN BALSAM is prepared with the greatest care, and the best materials. No pains or expense are spared to make it what it is—the best known remedy of the age. It may be taken by either sex, of all ages, and at all seasons, with perfect safety; and it is none the less powerful in conquering those diseases which sap the foundation and destroy the lives of so many in our midst. Every family should have it, and regard it as a household treasure.

MOTHERS

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First. It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them. Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show; the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation, viz:—

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTEDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c., also, for softening the gums and allaying pain. For regulating the Bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For the CROUP, the most fatal and trying of all diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to lose no time in procuring it. Lastly—It costs so much more than other preparations of the kind that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years practice—as a last resort conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of Physiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over two thousand consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite or pain in the side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your Sleep is Broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are Depressed, or your Organs relaxed, you will find this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate and bring it into lively and healthy action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weakness, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas and other like complaints.—Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success. For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle. Sold by

CELEBRATED
Worm Syrup.
TO THE PUBLIC.

AFTER A TRIAL of over TEN years in private practice, the subscriber is prepared to offer to the public a WORM SYRUP which has never failed to perform cures where others have been given in vain. It is beyond dispute the most pleasant and effectual preparation of the kind ever offered for sale.

It performs its cures safely, speedily, and effectually; injuring the nervous system in no wise—unlike, in this respect, to the Pink Root and Turpentine preparations—nor does it contain mercury in any shape or form; but is a purely vegetable production, and so harmless in its action that the most delicate infant may take it.

It is one of the best and most gentle purgatives that can be administered to children, in case, even, where no Worms exist, and is all that may be required, in nine cases out of ten, to restore the deranged condition of the digestive organs, so frequently met during childhood; and save your children from severe spells of sickness, or convulsions.

Those Physicians who have used it are perfectly delighted with it, and use it in preference to any other preparation ever offered.

CONSUMPTION OF SMOKE AND GAS AND SAVING OF FUEL.

The subscriber takes pleasure in offering to the public NEW GAS AND SMOKE CONSUMING Cooking Stove, recently patented, which is destined to supercede all others, as it requires than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove. Neither is there any danger of flues or chimneys becoming clog
